Now check out "glomar" and "glow." That "w" is work. Mar means Si, like in Mary.

The point of my ahem, targeting of the NSA, is to show us all how we are absolutely incapable of using technology properly today; we have allowed a surveillance state to be created and persist; and in the light of that darkness... we have failed to use that technology to do anything at all beneficial for our society. "Code Adam" here, is about stopping child abductions with more than "an amber alert" ... with the technology we know the government possesses and uses (probably just for drug dealers) we could already be in a much happier world.

Except we allow "them" to "hide" that this surveillance exists? So there's no way we could possibly use it for "justice." Ingenious, you all are.

Why don't one of you geniuses request my "file" from the NSA. You could even FOIA my FOIA requests; that would probably be enlightening. At the same time, you might find a really funny example of "good luck" in the transcripts from my SEC deposition in this case: <https://www.sec.gov/litigation/litreleases/2008/lr20481.htm> That company was "CURA Group" see, we were a group, and now you are gonna c me glow.

 you that read wrong.
 that awkward when you read that wrong too.

And said "moment" after awkward.

This is awkward.
